WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.

A CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITES, GENERAL DEBILITY AND ALL SCROFULOUS HUMORS.

THE Proprietor has succeeded from directions of Dr. Wilbor, in combining the Oil and Lime so exactly that the taste of the Oil, which is so nauseous to persons generally, is entirely removed, and it can be taken by the most delicate stomach with pleasure. And as regards the benefits of this article over the clear oil, the following case by Reid Stone is sufficient to convince the most skeptical. The young lady was twenty four years of age.

Her disease was one of unmixed phthisis which had been expected to terminate in the course of a few months fatally. The upper part of both her lungs were filled with tubercles, and in some places were beginning to suppurate. The case was evidently hopeless. The treatment of Cod Liver Oil was at first tried, but without marked improvement. The Phosphate of Lime was then administered with the oil, and the result shows the case of any others was so apparent. The patient was rapidly recovering."

CAUTION.—Inasmuch as the great reputation of this compound for all lung complaints, the subscriber was urged on by the afflicted against using any except that manufactured by him, as he has the only recipe in the United States for combining the pure Oil with lime in a proper manner. Therefore as a measure of public health purchase none except that manufactured

Admirable Invention!

PATENT SELF HEATING

SMOOTHING IRON!

MANY important improvements have been made since the beginning of the present century, for saving and facilitating the labor of men by machinery and other modern implements; but females have been nearly neglected until the introduction of the Patent Self Heating Smoothing Iron which will relieve them, in a very great degree, from the excessive and fatiguing labor of Ironing besides being a great saving of time and expense. This Iron combines economy, convenience, saving of labor and despatch; one cent's worth of dry charcoal supplies fuel for a whole days' constant ironing. Hard wood coal from the stove will answer the same purpose. It can be used in any room or in the open air. Butters and Tailors Irons are constructed upon the same principle, and possess equal superiority.

New Method of Cure.

Professor of Theory and Practice Obstetrics, Diseases of Women and Children, in the New England College of Physicians and Surgeons,

Has discovered a new method by which he is able to treat

All diseases peculiar to Females,

—ALSO—

with universal success; and a cure can be accomplished in much less time than any heretofore practiced by any physician in New England.

Dr. H's method has never been equalled in point of PRACTICABILITY or SUCCESS, and now every long standing case may be or from his efforts may have proved the patient may confidently expect relief. Hundreds of cases might be referred to, which would amply justify the above assertion.

Consumption, Dyspepsia,

are relieved in an incredible short space of time, and with remedies which are in perfect harmony with the constitution.

This great improvement in the cure of disease establishes a new era in medical science and all who are in any way afflicted should avail themselves of his advantages.

We do not feel disposed to publish a long list of cures, for no man no matter how fully prepared for the profession but what can boast of effecting cures and procure certificates of irresponsible individuals but will give the opinions of editors who are not famous before the public.

Prof. J. R. Buchanan, in his Journal of Man says Dr. Hatch is a bold but liberal reformer. He is a graduate of the Eclectic Medical Institution and is one of the most successful practitioners.

Dr. H. is one of the most intelligent Physicians and deserves liberal encouragement for his skill and rare disinterestedness.—Christian Freeman.

The general reading of a work such as Prof. H. has published, would result in much public good, and we trust it may meet with a universal circulation.—Boston Day Bee.

Dr. Hatch is truly one of the most skillful Physicians of Boston.—Prof. A. W. Dennis, M. D.

SEWING MACHINE!

Secured by Two Distinct Patents!

THESE extraordinary Machines have had numerous diplomas and medals awarded to them as the best sewing machines ever devised. They now form one of the most attractive features of the Great Exhibition at the Crystal Palace in New York.

The proprietors having perfected their great manufactory in New York are now able to produce the Machines at a cheaper rate and have determined to give the benefit to the public by reducing the price $20. Hereafter these unrivalled Machines will be sold at either of our regular offices for $100 Cash, without deduction or discount.

Of the admirable qualities of these Machines for all the work of the Clothier, Tailor, Shoe Manufacturer, Saddler, Carriage Trimmer, Cap Maker and Corset Maker it is unnecessary to speak.—The character of the machines for these branches of business is established and they are known and admitted to be the most perfect instruments for the purpose ever devised. The clear profit on each machine is from $500 to $1000 a year, depending on the fineness and difficulty of the work done.—We desire to call the particular attention of Shirt and Collar manufacturers to our machine for stitching fine linen and cotton goods. We can satisfy any person interested that no other machine has ever done or can do this kind of stitching perfectly. The price of the machine includes the necessary articles for using. When ordered, they are packed complete for immediate use, and full printed directions for using are furnished.

Either of the Express companies or merchants visiting the places where our offices are located afford a convenient medium for purchasing machines.

TESTIMONIALS.

The following certificate from Dr. John C. Warren of Boston, was given 17 years since, but will not expire forever.

Boston, Jan 5 1833.

Having had occasion to observe the manner in which Mr. James Fredrick Foster, has suffered himself to be fitted with Herniae, have suffered him from the worst of cases, in accommodating Trusses to the great satisfaction of their owners, I have to express to inform myself of the competency of Mr. J. F. Foster to supply the deficiency occasioned by the death of Mr. Beath. At my request he has attended to observation of his work, I am well satisfied that Mr. Foster is well acquainted with the manufacture of these instruments, and ingenuous in accommodating to the variety of cases which occur. I feel called upon to recommend him to my professional brethren and to the public as a person well fitted to supply their wants in regard to the above particulars.

JOHN C. WARREN, M. D.

The undersigned take great pleasure in recommending to the favorable consideration of those who are in the habit of being fitted with the Trusses, Mr. James Frederick Foster, as a skillful and competent person in the fitting of these and putting of Trusses. We have employed him some of our twenty years and thereby speak from personal knowledge of his abilities. His early advantages, his long experience in the business and the large number of individuals who he has relieved in a variety of cases, render him, in our opinion, equal if not superior to any manufacturer of the article. His Father, Dr. Gideon Foster, of Charlestown, was master of the Poor-house in that town for upwards of twenty five years during which period Mr. F. was provided with most of the opportunity, and made application of Trusses in a great variety of cases with great success, some of which were of a very complicated and distressing character.

I am well known to all who have occasion to wear a Truss that its great excellence consists in its adaptation to the body at the same time relieving the patient. Any ordinary mechanic may make a Truss but none but a skillful practitioner can apply it in such a manner as effectually and often immediately cure the complaint.

Our experience has convinced us that Mr. Foster has thoroughly attained this knowledge. The certificates of Dr. J. C. Warren and other eminent surgeons, which he has shown us, fully sustain the opinions we here express.

The rate of representation is, That every organized plantation is entitled to one Delegate—Towns having 1000 inhabitants and under will send two Delegates—over 1000 and under 2000, four Delegates—over 2000 and under 3000 six Delegates—over 3000 and under 4000, ten Delegates—over 4000 fifteen Delegates.

The census of 1850 to be taken as the basis of population. It is desirable that every town shall be fully represented, Per order.

Aug. 22, 1853

Whig Convention.

The Whigs of the Representative District composed of Charleston, Bradford, Lagrange and Alton, are notified that a Convention will be held at the Town House, in the town of Bradford, on Friday, the 2d day of September, at one o'clock P. M, or the purpose of nominating a candidate for Representative, and transacting such other business as may come before the Convention.

Per order of District Committee.

Bradford, Aug. 8, 1853.

Penobscot County Whig Convention.

We publish to-day a notice for the assembling of the Penobscot County Whig Convention in this city on the first day of September next, a week from next Thursday, for the purpose of nominating Senators and County officers to be chosen on the 12th of September.

We would remind the whigs of the county that it is important that every town should be fully represented by Delegates, and as the time is short they should see at once to the calling the primary meetings and the selection of delegates.

The opposition in Maine is in a fix of their own, and the whigs should be ready to act with promptness and harmony in order to secure the election of their candidate, who now fills the Chief Executive office with honor to himself and his political associates and to the decided advantage of the State.

Let there be no faltering now, no hesitancy on the part of the whigs, but a general and a generous movement made for their cause and their candidates.

By activity, energy, watchfulness, and a thorough regard to the wishes of the people the whigs may see their cause prosper, and the State redeemed from all the direful effects of intemperate zeal in a bad cause. Work, good friends, while the day lasts, work for the constitution and the laws!

☞ The number of those persons who take a pride in paying promptly the printer's bills is constantly increasing. They know the value of the Press—appreciate the importance of having it well supported, and understand the many and almost constant struggles through which it buffets its way in striving to anticipate the public wants, and in a competition with itself in the endeavor to give more for less pay, and in keeping up a system of interminable credit. It is right that men who look to the progress of the country, to the encouragement of industry, the increase of business and to the success of all educational, social and moral enterprise of the age, should regard the Press with favor, and should be solicitous for its maintenance. But there are some men—well-meaning men, who are so much engaged in their own affairs that they do not find time to think of the claims of the press or of the many ways in which it may contribute to the public prosperity. There are other men who neglect the whole subject and even carry the matter so far as to let their account on the Printer's book run along year after year without paying a dollar! What a vast difference between these men and those we first named. Reader, if you stand in the class of those in debt to the Printer, you stand where you ought not, if you would fulfil the demands of the age, and contribute of your share to the relief of your newspaper.

☞ The Governor General of Canada, Lord Elgin, is in now music, will shortly leave Canada for England. His administration has been most successful to Canada—party and disjointed party politics have given way to efforts to improve the productions, manufactures and business of the Provinces—the principles of responsible government have been established and are now understood—the railway enterprises and other public improvements are in good progress; and even those who stormed Lord Elgin with eggs and burnt the Parliament House over his head and who expected to get up a revolution because he signed the indemnity bills, are creeping back in every conceivable form, and seeking to lessen in all ways the odium attached to their former opposition. The triumph of Lord Elgin has been signal and his departure from Canada, where he has exerted so wide and favorable an influence will be regretted by a large number of the people.

CEMENT. The Green Mountain Vegetable Cement for uniting broken glass, china and earthen ware &c., manufactured by Josiah Briggs in this city, is getting to be very popular with the people of all political parties and of all creeds. There is a story told about this cement in illustration of the confidence of its friends in its good qualities, which is, that an agent who had tried so often with success in cases within its scope, upon breaking the axel-tree to his waggon, immediately commenced applying the cement, and only stopped from the fear of using up too much of the precious article and not from any doubt of its complete triumph! We don't think it would avail in mending broken go carts, but for glass &c., it is doubtless a sovereign remedy.

☞ The whigs of Franklin county have nominated for Senator Alvan Currier of Farmington, Attorney, Oliver L. Currier of New Sharon, Treasurer, Hiram B. Stovell of Farmington, Commissioner, Silas Jones Jr.

☞ Mr. Morrill one of the democratic candidates for Governor, has taken the stump in Franklin County.

THE TRUE PATRIOT. We have received the first number of a new paper, with the above title, published in Portland and conducted by an association of Democrats, and devoted to the election of Anson P. Morrill for Governor of Maine. The paper makes a neat appearance and enters very zealously into the election campaign, and stands ready to prove its democracy against all comers, and calls upon the democrats of the State to unite in an effort to "give the wild cats an everlasting chase up Salt river and beyond." The Patrict is up for the campaign at $1,50 a hundred.

☞ We have taken some pains to examine into the matters complained of relative to the building of the school house in the Sherburne District, and are satisfied that the contractors are doing their duty and that the complaint originated in a feeling of envy and low spirit and is unworthy a moment's attention. The writer of the communication bearing the complaint better deserves a kick than the attention he has received.

It would be worth any one's while who desires to study the philosophy of advertising to watch the difference in the course of three or four years in the business of two tradesmen, who started with equally fair prospects, one of whom advertised judiciously while the other did not advertise at all. The chances are ten to one that while the latter was struggling, but little if any more advanced than when he started, the former would have made himself a name and be rapidly progressing to the head of his profession.

ANECDOTES FOR THE STEAMBOAT AND RAILROAD.—We have received from the publishers, Mess rs. Lindsay & Blakiston of Philadelphia, a book of three hundred and eighty nine pages, bristled with pleasant anecdotes from all departments of human life, and just the thing for any one to open of a spare minute and gather something agreeable and interesting, humorous or witty, sarcastic or grave, ludicrous or suggestive.

Fifty cents, the cost of the book, can hardly be expended by the traveler to better advantage than in the purchase of this volume.

☞ A "Subscriber" wishes to learn as to the means of getting from Montreal to Niagara Falls. We are unable to state definitely as to this matter; but this we know, that the means are abundant and can readily be learned at any hotel in Montreal, and passengers can obtain tickets through from Montreal, Lake George, Niagara Falls, New York or Boston, by rapid transit and at low rates. Will our Portland friends of the "Star of Maine" give us the particulars, as they are posted up on the matter.

☞ Study and in earn would some, now unsuspecting youth, go to bed at night if they knew just where their sons were spending the night hours. Evil and bitter are almost always the consequence of two, three or more young men undertaking to keep a lodging and pleasure room of their own.

☞ The Hon. Jefferson Davis, Secretary of War, left Washington on the 17th, for the White Mountains, where he will spend a month at the encampment of Prof Bache, who is engaged in operations there, in connection with the Coast Survey.

☞ The Portsmouth Chronicle states that orders have been received at the Navy Yard, to renew operations on the U. S. ship Franklin, and the seventy men recently discharged have been recalled.

☞ The "Northern Light" has been merged into the weekly "Star of Maine," published at Portland.

☞ Ocean Engine Co., No 7, of Providence, will visit Portland on Thursday of the present week.

☞ The Boston Courier states that many fields of potatoes in Roxbury have perished and will be plowed up.

☞ The steamer Governor took a gay party down Portland Harbor on Saturday evening last.

☞ The Somerset county whig convention will be held at Skowhegan on the 1st of September.

☞ Neal Dow, Esq. of Portland, will address the citizens of Bangor on the subject of Temperance, on the evening at the city Hall.

☞ Dr. Boynton is delivering popular lectures at Portland, on Geology.

There is nothing like keeping one's name and business continually before the public eye.

Supply of Guano.

An immense deposit of Guano has been discovered in the Indian Ocean, between Mauritius and Calcutta. It has been analysed by Prof. Anderson of Glasgow, and is now also in the hands of Prof. Way of London, for analysis. Four kinds of it have been brought to England, two of which are of superior quality, resembling the guano of Saldanha Bay the other two are comparatively of inferior quality.

The discoverer relates that being becalmed off an Island, he sent his boats ashore for water. They returned without it, but told what they had found. The captain visited himself and having made several voyages for guano to Ichaboe, he at once pronounced the substance with which the Island was covered, to be guano. Having traversed the island in various directions, he found guano everywhere; its greatest depth, however, was in the caverns and crevices of the rock. He secured samples and brought them home. The samples having been taken from near the surface, the quality is supposed to be inferior to what may be found beneath, as it is injured by the action of the weather. The deposit is reported to be immense, the island being twenty miles long by seven broad, and thus forty times as large as Ichaboe. There are no strong ocean currents near the island, and it is said, that convenient loading stages can be erected with great facility, in the creeks and bays along its coast. Steps are being taken to make the guano available to the British farmer.

This discovery shows what may be reasonably anticipated from a search in other quarters, and especially off the rainless coast of Peru. This is the true way to break down the monopoly of Peru, and to secure for the agriculturist an abundant and cheap supply of guano.

QUICK WORK. On the 4th ult. Alexander H. Steele and John J. Bunker, of Danvers, Mass., on a wager of $25, pegged one hundred and sixty pairs of women's spring heeled shoes working ten hours—Steele pegging 82 pairs and Bunker 78 pairs; Steele's being at the rate of 8 1-5 pairs per hour, driving upwards of 36 pegs per minute, and Bunker 7 4-5 pairs per hour, on more than 34 per minute—together driving 41,920 pegs in ten hours. The age part of the work was performed while the blood was oozing from their fingers ends.

OPENING THE AMAZON. It has been stated that Lieutenant Porter, of the Navy, had obtained a furlough for the purpose of taking command of a squadron to open the navigation of the Amazon, but the statement was denied over the signature of that officer. A correspondent of the National Intelligencer says:

"I perceive that Lieutenant W. D. Porter is out with a card denying that he obtained a furlough for two years, and has been placed in command of a squadron fitting out for the Amazon. Although at one time deeply interested in the proposed expedition, I have good reason to believe that as soon as he became satisfied of its illegality he gave up all idea of attaching himself to it in any way.

This subject involves more than the public are aware. Prominent merchants of New York are desirous of opening trade with the countries watered by the tributaries of the Amazon. They argue that Peru, Ecuador, Bolivia and Venzuela, owning these tributaries, have a right to use the great highway of the Amazon to get out to sea; and, upon the invitation of those countries, they propose to vindicate that right by forcibly passing the Brazilian jurisdiction. Armed with this argument and an armed of Vattel, showing the rights of Peru, &c., to navigate the Amazon, Lieut. Porter—the New York merchants at the head of the movement—and other parties interested, held a consultation in this city not long since, and presented the object to the Government, asking its sanction to their proceedings, Lieut. Porter declaring his readiness to fight against any odds if his country would but say it was right so to do. The subject was fully considered in Cabinet session, and the answer to the expeditionists was, that however perfect the rights of Peru and the other countries named, it was by no means clear that they could transfer that right to another power and that before the proposed expedition could be legal, those engaged in it would have to constitutionalize themselves, become subjects to Peru or Ecuador or Bolivia, when, of course they would lose the right to protection by the United States. At this point, I believe, Lieut. Porter broke off his active connexion with the project."

"The subject Hon. James Brooks' oration was, "Preparation for public life." For this, according to Mr. B., three things are necessary. The first of these is a thorough training of the mental faculties, and the acquisition of various knowledge. The second is power of expression, an ability to give utterance to what one knows, and make others feel that he knows it. The third is eloquence, the power of controlling the passions, convincing the judgment, and inspiring the resolves of large assemblies, specially on great occasions, when important interests are at stake, a right is to be established, or a tyranny overthrown. The speaker instanced Mr. Clay as his ideal of an orator; and thought him by far the greatest the country has produced. Yet, even he had several serious defects. His pronunciation was often incorrect, his grammar faulty; but his suavity was always soothing, and the emotions of his great heart irresistible.

Considered as a whole, this oration of the New York editor and congressman, was not inferior to the first efforts of our practised commencement orators, the Everetts, Choates, Winthrops and Sumners of New England. Mr. B's friends and colleagues at Washington. The analysis of his object was perfect. No one could help retaining the main points of it. His illustrations were all apt, and most of them original. His style was idiomatic, lucid and business like. His words were fitly chosen; and it would be fortunate for the youth connected with them if Mr. B. were invited to repeat his address before other Literary Institutions."

Parties in Russia.

The London Times thus sketches the two parties which it is well known have often struggled for the supremacy in directing the Policy of the Russian Empire.

"There exist at the Court of St. Petersburgh in the Russian Empire two parties which are broadly distinguished by their respective descent from the German or Baltic provinces of the empire or from the old Muscovite stock. A large proportion of the statesmen who have done honor to the policy of the empire belong to the former class—among them Prince Lieven, Count Nesselrode, M. de Benckendorf, M. de Meyendorf, Baron Brunow, Baron Krudener and many others.

The reigning house of Russia is left itself divided by only two generations from its German origin and the Emperor Alexander never concealed his predilection for men who strengthened his connexion with the manners and ideas of Western Europe. Emperor Nicholas has pursued an opposite course. His policy has been to identify himself with the passions, the peculiarities, the political aspirations and the religious fanaticism of the Muscovites and far more than his ministers, he has adopted the spirit which he chose to represent.

His second and favorite son the Grand Duke Constantine has espoused the same great national party, with even greater fanaticism and intensity, than the Emperor; and in both of them the cause of the church and of the Empire finds a champion and perhaps an instrument. It is certain that the strong ambition of this party inflamed by religious enthusiasm and the bride of a dominant race has for years past been directed to the present year as the fourth centenary of the overthrow of the Greek Empire, and to Constinople as the prize of war, and whatever may be the intrinsic worthlessness of such mystical associations and prophecies it will not be denied that they contribute to the feeling which may lead to their fulfilment.

A Singular Festival.

The Cincinnati Times states that in the eleventh ward of that city, there is a little alley called Pete street. It is about twenty feet wide, yet compactly built up on each side with dwellings. These buildings are occupied by Germans; and though Pete is a little street, and its houses not the best in the world yet it can boast of as large a population as any street of similar length in the city. Not long since the inhabitants of Pete street gave a sort of neighborhood festival, which attracted a large number of other persons to the spot, and elicited much attention. In the afternoon the doors and gate ways were handsomely trimmed and decorated with boquets of flowers and evergreens, and arches made of boughs of trees were extended across the street; besides, each house displayed a flag, some large and some small, but all of a blood red color. At twilight, the inhabitants, old and young, rich and poor, dressed themselves in their best suits, and appeared upon their sidewalks. Then each family brought forth its table, and in a few minutes there was a length of tables extending from one end of the street to the other. These were brilliant lighted up with candles, and then covered with the good things of the land. It is said that among other things, each family on Pete street loaded a half barrel of beer to the feast. About nine o'clock the eating and drinking commenced—all the families on Pete street, and no one else, participating. It was kept up till a late hour, when all quietly retired to their rooms. Whether the feast was the anniversary of some holiday, the celebration of an old German custom, or a neighborhood "notion" we could not learn.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier.

DREAMS.

How much of pleasure is derived from dreams! We visit the play places of our youth, we live over tender childhood again. All the happy as well as sorrowful scenes are painted in colors near as bright as was the reality. We see the rippling brook we hear the murmuring waterfall, we see the extended lawn, on which we sported; we hear the blithe voices of our young companions, and they seem not as things that were, but as really now. Our excited imagination even takes control of our physical being, and the calm features of the sleeper's face is relaxed into a smile of gladness. I know not what may be the true philosophy of dreaming, yet this I do know, that my dreams have been the happiest part of my life. Whatever can make us happy when awake, always has something about it which to the thinking heart makes it look sorrowful, the "stern realities of life," form the back ground of every pleasant picture or scene, and in those realities we cannot fail to see much to sadden the feeling soul. Yes, dreams of sparkling springs come to the desert traveler—of food to the starving child—of fuel and good cheer to the freezing wanderer—and the sick man is well again. Yet I would not eulogise dreams, the romances of our sleeping hours, beyond their real merits. Byron did truly say, "Sleep is awful," and the blackest and most hideous scenes that ever haunted the human mind, are dependent upon sleep, but not often is it so with the good, the true hearted. The villain well may be tormented with such horrors, but with the pure, such wild fancies are incompatible.

Though I have said that dreams make me happy, yes, happiest, yet far be it from me to wish to dream always. No, I could not make such a foolish, such a wicked wish. I would be useful, I would cope with evil, that I might be the instrument of doing good, of lessening the wrongs in the world, that I might make its inhabitants happier and better, and that the realities of life might be more like my holiest dreams.

Discoveries in Africa.

The Colonization Herald states that the routes through Southern Africa, laid down by Messrs. Oswell and Livingston, have been turned to account by enterprising British cruisers and traders, who, following up their traces have re-discovered Lake Nigami, of the existence of which not a few were quite skeptical upon the first announcement of its discovery. A party of traders have thoroughly explored its shores, and, having walked entirely round it, find it to be sixty miles in length and fourteen in breadth. More than this, they have ascertained that this lake, with its numerous tributary streams, presents facilities for a large net-work of inland navigation.

A Mr. Campbell, one of the traders who made these explorations, speaks in a letter giving an account of his adventures, of the natives living on the borders of the lake, as remarkably intelligent. These natives informed him that there was another lake, many times larger than Lake Nigami, a great way off, in a northwesterly direction; and a so a range of lofty mountains, running north and south, to a very great distance. They also spoke of thirteen large rivers within a distance of about four hundred miles north of the Zambese.

After making the circuit of this lake, the party of traders ascended the river Teouge, a large stream flowing into the western side, in the expectation of meeting and doing business with Lebele, a chief of a powerful Mahoka tribe, of whom they had heard much. After proceeding upwards of one hundred and fifty miles, breaking new ground at every step, their progress was at last arrested by swarms of poisonous flies, whose attacks were fatal to oxen and horses, and most reluctantly they retraced their steps back to the lake. From this point their wagons were conveyed by canoes up the river Zonge, about three hundred miles.

Mr. Campbell speaks of finding traces everywhere on his journey of Portuguese traders. It would seem by these accounts as if the entire district, only just discovered by science, has long been known to the slave dealer.

AN ASTONISHING YOUTH. At the United States Hotel yesterday, was stepping a colored boy, named William Marcey, whose extraordinary mathematical powers have greatly astonished all who have witnessed his demonstrations. He will add up columns of figures any length, divide any given sum, multiply millions by thousand within five minutes from the time the figures are given him and with such exactness as to render it truly wonderful. Yesterday noon in presence of a party of gentleman, he added a column of figures, eight in a line, and one hundred and eighty lines, making the sum total of several millions in about six minutes. The feat was so astonishing and apparently incredible that several of the party took off their coats and dividing the sum went to work, and in two hours after they commenced, produced identically the same answer. The boy is not quite seventeen years of age; he cannot read nor write and in every other branch of an English education is entirely deficient. His parents reside in Kentucky, near Louisville.

SUICIDE. On Saturday evening, about five o'clock, Miss Laura A. Sealand, a girl of irreproachable character, about nineteen years old, took an ounce of arsenic, which caused her death in about five hours. Dr. Seavey was called in and applied a stomach pump, but without results. The deceased left a letter, in which she stated her determination to rid herself of life, and that she had procured and mixed the poison. She gave no reason for the fatal act. In the letter, which follows, she speaks in affectionate terms of her mother, and indicates her wish that a ring which she named, should be given to her sister.

I this day procured one ounce of arsenic, and have mixed it with cold water, and intend to drink the whole of it. My death comes by my own hands. I want my sister to have the ring that is on my finger, and all my things.

WONDERFUL AND EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF RHEUMATISM OF TWENTY YEARS' STANDING.

Never in my life have I had so much pleasure in doing any thing as in giving this certificate to the world, and I hope it may be the cause of thousands of my fellow creatures being relieved from that terrible disease, rheumatism. My wife has been afflicted with it for twenty years most of the time suffering excruciating pains in every part of her body. Having no appetite whatever, she was reduced almost to a skeleton. So violent were the pains that she seldom could sleep without taking large doses of opium. Every joint was swelled very much, and her knees, hands, and neck covered with large lumps. She could do no kind of work, the sinews and muscles being so hard and contracted that her limbs were drawn together, so that she was obliged to be in bed constantly. In this condition she had been for twenty years, without ever getting any relief from every thing she used, until she commenced the use of H. G. FARRELL'S ARABIAN LINIMENT, the first bottle of which produced a great change. She has now used five bottles, and the swellings have nearly all gone down, pain has entirely left her, she sleeps well and soundly, is more fleshy than she ever was in her life, has an excellent appetite and goes about all day. By the use of a few bottles more she must be as well as ever she was. If any one doubts this wonderful cure he has only to call at my residence near Peoria, and learn the circumstances from my wife's own lips, or he can further inquire of any of my neighbors. SAMUEL BUSON.

H. G. FARRELL'S ARABIAN LINIMENT is also an excellent remedy for palsy, sprains, bruises, cramps, chilblains, burns, pains, toothache, sore eyes, etc, and in horses or cattle is the best remedy in the world where an external application is required.

LOOK OUT FOR COUNTERFEITS.

The public are cautioned against another counterfeit, which has lately made its appearance, called W. H. Farrell's Arabian Liniment, the most dangerous of all the counterfeits, because his having the name of Farrell, many will buy it in good faith, without the knowledge that a counterfeit exists, and they will perhaps only discover their error when the spurious mixture has wrought its evil effects.

This genuine article is manufactured only by H. G. Farrell, sole inventor and proprietor, and wholesale druggist No. 17 Main Street, Peoria Illinois, to whom all applications for Agencies must be addressed. Be sure you get it with the letters H. G. before Farrell's, thus—H. G. FARRELL'S—and his signature on the wrapper, all others are counterfeits.

Sold by INGRAHAM & FULLER, Wholesale and retail, Bangor Also by R. F. Kinsell, Old town. French & Hamilton, Dexter. Geo. Percher, Ellsworth. P. O. Flaherty, Houlton. And by regularly authorized agents throughout the United States.

Great Excitement!

Among Carriage Makers.

THE subscribers have purchased the right to make, use and sell for the Counties of Penobscot, Piscataquis, Waldo, Hancock, Washington and Aroostook. The advantages of the above Coupling, over the old method of connecting the main part of the Carriage with the front part is such that it must come into general use when it is properly understood. High forward wheels can be used, and we get rid of the gulling irons, as the wheels do not strike the body, and the carriage turns in a very small compass, the hind wheels not describing more than 4 to 6 feet circle. It is perfectly simple, and not so liable to get out of order as the old method. Those who have used the above are fully satisfied of its utility, as certificates below show. It can be attached to old carriages at a small expense, and we are prepared to sell the right for shops, towns, and would sell a part of the above named Counties, at such a rate that any smart man, with a small capital, could realize a great profit from the sale of the above. Any person wishing information will receive immediate attention at our place of business, or by dropping us a line by mail, post-paid.

Everett's Patent Coupling

We have leave to refer to Messrs I. B. Norcross, Chase & Littlefield, and C. P. Coe, Esq., who are using the same. D. W. MORRILL & CO.

HARDY'S FAMILY VEGETABLE CATHARTIC PILLS are the best that can be found in any country for Jaundice, and all Bilious troubles, Dyspepsia, Colds, Rheumatism, and every complaint in which the stomach or bowels need evacuation or regulating. Yankees have boasted their unequalled skill and talent for every thing that the human head can devise or hands execute; why, then, turn with admiring and confiding eyes towards every new medicine with a foreign name? Yankees can, and do, beat all creation in every thing they attempt. Then discard your Mustang, Kangaroo, Ichneumon, Hyena, and all other such heathenish medicines, and call at Hardy's, No. 3 Harlow's Block, where you will find, not only the best Pills, but the best Medicines in existence "for all the ills that flesh is heir to." DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL!

FOR GENITAL DEBILITY IMPOTENCY IN CONSUMPTION OR NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS, &c The astonishing success which has attended this invaluable medicine for Loss of Muscular Energy, Physical Prostration, and General Depravation, or any of the consequences of youthful indiscretion, or indulgence of the passions a short years, renders it the most valuable preparation ever discovered In fact as a remedy for the above complaints it stands unrivalled and alone There is no other reliable remedy, or any that have authentically received the sanction of the Medical Faculty The WONDERFUL VEGETABLE PRODUCTION of which this medicine is composed has been tested and its virtues proclaimed by the most eminent names of the faculty of London, Paris, and the chief cities of Europe, as well as by our own Physicians in this country It is the only infallible remedy for NERVOUS DISEASES and CONSTITUTIONAL DEPRESSION EXCITEMENT frequently to study of business loss of MEMORY CONFUSION of ideas of Self Destruction, fatal insanity, &c It will restore the shattered nervous system, renew health and strength, and restore the fire of youthful feelings to the emaciated and debilitated frame. It has been sold by some that their disorders, emissions &c, were incurable. This has ever been the fact, and is known only to those who have tried the Cordial. Dr Morse's Invigorating Cordial, has been and is constantly curing these complaints restoring the mental and bodily energy of the unfortunate sufferer, as the following testimony of the most respectable and conscientious show

Dr Woodward of the Massachusetts General Hospital, writes of one of his patients being cured by using this cordial, thus — It gives me pleasure to inform you that one of my patients, while in Boston procured some of your Cordial He tells me that he has not had any emissions since he commenced taking it, while before he had two or three a week. When he applied to me, says Dr W, I thought it hardly possible for him ever to regain his full strength I prescribed the usual medicine used in those cases in the hospital, but they had no effect. In the meantime he procured some of your Cordial which has effected a cure I am sure no other medicine would I shall ever recommend it wherever the opportunity occurs

The nature of the disease relieved by this Cordial are generally such as to avoid the publication of certificates of a cure but of the question, and the proprietor could produce a list of the most conclusive testimony to show that the great reputation it enjoys was not easily obtained, but is firmly based upon its positive and apparently miraculous virtues In all directions it has been followed the happy results of healthy offspring, who would and have been, but for this great relief preparation And it is equally potent for many diseases for which it is recommended

THE MEDICAL JOURNALS have spoken in a single instance that has been authenticated, given their sanction to any other preparation for the above complaints. Dr Morse in many violent and drastic cases effected without cure after patients had been abandoned and their condition pronounced hopeless by medical practitioners of high profession of character.

THE COMMON EXPRESSION Of those who have used this Extract is—"I had heard of your Cordial but by ignorant, or unscrupulous persons in regard to its merits, having tried worthless medicines said for the same purpose, (differ it is true in name) without receiving any benefit. I had almost despaired of obtaining relief when I purchased some of your Cordial. I think it, with other, or alone, effected the half a dozen bottles. I think will cure me"

Another says—"I had consulted several distinguished physicians. Some said I could not be cured others pronounced this time and that but I found no relief until I procured some of your Cordial I must say it completely cured me"

Another says—"I was surprised at the effect your Cordial has Why had I not heard of it before? It would have saved me much expense, besides years of mental and bodily suffering

CAUTION—Ask for Dr. Morse's Cordial and take no other, as there are worthless imitations which in unrivalled excellence fame and popularity, have brought into the market. It will not hurt the most delicate female but do good Beware of all other Cordials, &c, (and try only this)

NOTICE Personal consultation of physical inability from causes above name may confidentially consult Dr Morse personally or by letter (post paid) at his office, 78 Hanover street Boston The necessary advice and medicine for the speedy removal of such disability will be safely forwarded to the writer's address

Dr Morse is prepared to warrant a perfect cure in every case or take no pay

I previously lost a child from a similar complaint and I firmly believe, had I then have adopted your medicines, she would have been saved also I shall be happy to testify the truth of this to any enquirer (Signed) J HIRD Draper
